HAVE YOU THOUGHT OF..

GETTING GUESTS TO THE RIGHT TABLE CAN BE a creative opportunity. Instead of plain ecru escort cards arranged at the entryway, think outside the box. For the March wedding of Heather Gordon and Josh Huntington, Kara Hillier of Botanicals created this dramatic escort-card tree.

As guests arrived, they found their names and tables on beautifully printed cards designed by Pulp Invitations, hanging from custom-made trees crafted from manzanita branches. Mokara and Cattleya orchids graced the branch tips and blanketed the tree base. Botanicals 773-269-3142, botanicalschicago.com
